SEISATION IN LETTER OF DIGGS

SAV FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—With the story of Maria Whittington, with whom many diggers, former state architects, are alleged to have eloped, still to be told in Judge Van Fleet's court, the assistant to date has been a letter addressed to "Dear Rickles".

There was a session of the court to-day.

Both Maria Whittington and Lela Norris are expected to take the witness stand.

It was announced today by attorneys for the defense that Diggs and Cannetti would take the stand as witnesses on Friday before the trial was concluded.

Miss Whittington's story is expected to be the most remarkable self-revelation any woman has made in court since Judge Thaw's testimony in the Thaw trial.

The "Pioneer" letter was sent Maria Whittington from a hotel in Berkeley after she had returned from Reno. Besides the address to "Dear Rickles" it was signed "Tom" and is alleged to have been written by Diggs. The letter urged the girl to be cheerful, saying all would well if she would only remember what he had told her to say. The girl ends with the words: "Will you tell the judge I am sorry."

J. F. Beck, a Reno real estate man, told of seeing it in the hands of Maria Whittington and Cannetti. The defense alleged that the defendant did not read this letter, but the girl for purposes of sensationalism, but Judge Van Fleet ruled that it was not necessary to prove that the defendant took the letter to Reno clandestinely.

The women of San Francisco will use the evidence in this case to further a war on men. Mrs. Mary Sullivan and Mrs. W. H. Campbell, who started the result of Police Judge Walter because he was alleged to have favored white slaves, are in constant attendance.

Japs Demand Heads of Chinese Rebels
Indemnity Also Asked for Damage to Property in Formosa.

AMOI, China, Aug. 9.—The Japanese government today sent a demand to the Chinese authorities here for the execution of three of the so-called Monaghan Tungus tribesmen, and also for an indemnity for the destruction of property and the killing and wounding of a number of Formosans in the recent civil fighting in this city. The demands must be filed by tomorrow, according to the note sent by the Japanese.

The Chinese officials replied, agreeing to the conditions except as to the time for carrying them out. They declare it impossible for them to effect the arrest of the tribesmen in the period stated, as they have fled to the interior of the province.

Four men and one woman were injured when the back in which they were returning from a funeral at "Laver" Cemetery was "side-swiped" by a Forest Hill trolley at Morton and Washington streets, Forest Hill square, today. One of the men may die. The injured:

COLLINS, JOHN T., thirty-nine years, of No. 11 1/2 St. Mark street, Jamaica Plain, seriously fractured skull. Taken to City Hospital.

MITCHELL, JOHN E., sixty years, of No. 7 Cadogan street, Dorchester, head and face cut. Taken home.

MILLAN, MARY, forty years, of No. 180 Huntington avenue, body bruised. Taken home.

FEDERAL PARTY IN COLLISION

GILKINTON, THOMAS F., forty-three years, of No. 6 Elmwood street, Dorchester, face and body badly cut. Taken home.

KELLY, MICHAEL J., forty years, of No. 6 Elmwood street, Dorchester, shins cut and bruised.

The back was driven by Patrick Brady of No. 606 Ottawa street, Roxbury. The five men were being driven back from the cemetery through Morton street to Washington.

As the back rounded the corner of Morton street an open trolley to Forest Hill came along. The police do not place the responsibility for the collision, but say that the car struck the back a glancing blow, or "side-swiped" it.

Brady, the driver, jumped when he saw that collision was inevitable. But he clung to his reins and prevented the horses from bolting.

The window glass in the back was shattered and the broken pieces were scattered over the five occupants, inflicting many cuts. The shock of the collision threw the occupants against the sides and back of the inside of the back, adding bodily injuries to their cuts.

How Senate Leaders View Mexican Crisis

Senator O'Gorman: "The situation seems more strained. Three things can be done—recognition under conditions imposed by this government, raising the embargo against the export of arms and permitting the factions to fight it out, or armed intervention."

Senator Stone: "Two years ago we marched 20,000 troops to the border and marched them back again. Had we acted then this situation would not now face us."—Comment of leading Senators on Huerta's defiance of the United States and refusal to treat with Envoy Lind.

Florence Welcome was arrested in Lowell a month ago and drank poison when arraigned in the Lowell District Court. Her life was saved by prompt action, however, and she was brought down to East Cambridge jail.

Plan Great Radio Station at Canal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—One of the greatest naval radio stations in the world, even eclipsing in size the new station at Arlington, Va., will be constructed by the United States at Calicut, in the Canal Zone. It will be built by the Eastern Radio Station, and whereas only one of the Arlington towers reaches the height of 600 feet, all three of the towers at Calicut will be of that height.

The station plant, it is expected, will be able to communicate with San Francisco as well as with Arlington, and will be built into the southern zone as far as Valdivia, Chile, 421 miles south of Valparaiso, on the west coast of South America, and as far as Buenos Ayres, Argentina, on the east side. Throwing its waves across the Atlantic, this new station should communicate with the island of St. Vincent, 500 miles west of Africa.

WILSON CALLS SENATORS TO WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee will go to the White House at a week tonight for a conference with President Wilson at his invitation.

President Wilson will place before the committee a full statement of the course of action he proposes to take in the present situation. Secretary Bryan will bring with him all reports now in possession of the State Department relating to Mexico.

The President will outline to the committee the proposals which Special Envoy Lind carries with him to General Huerta and will map out all his plans. The meeting has been called by the President so as to eliminate the impression that he is ignoring the counsel of the Senate in the present crisis.

The entire membership of the committee and seven Republicans will be present.

While the speed of the battle with Huerta has been reduced so that Special Representative Lind will not be back at Vera Cruz until late today, the American representative in Mexico City is active.

Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy has served notice on the Huerta government that it attack on Lind and his mission and he has made it very plain to the Mexican officials that while it can do as it pleases so far as accepting the plan Mr. Lind comes to communicate, it will be held responsible for any attempt to kill him who comes as an officer of the United States. Secretary Bryan bearing the official commission of representative of the President of the United States.

Huerta Threatens War.

President Huerta, in what purports to be an authorized statement through the Mexican City correspondent of the Washington Times today virtually threatened the United States with war. He declares that he will resist any attempt by the United States to interfere in Mexico, and that he will resist "force of arms."

The statement in full, as published by the Times reads:

President Huerta authorized me to make this statement for him:

"I will resist with arms any attempt by the United States to interfere in the affairs of Mexico."

"The Huerta of patience has been reached and a non-recognition adopted by the United States."

"I intend absolutely to ignore Lind's protest, unless he bears official credentials as Ambassador. Under no conditions will he be received by government departments."

"I refuse to accept mediation or intervention by the United States here."

The report was persistent to day that President Huerta had served notice on President Wilson that if the United States meddled in the internal affairs of Mexico, Huerta would order all foreigners out of the country on fifteen hours' notice.

The warrant is said also to have been conveyed that a manifesto of Huerta would follow any decided action by this country aside from the recognition of the Huerta regime.

Delay Lind by Wireless.

The crisis of the battle with Huerta, carrying forward Governor Lind, the President's special representative from Governor, Texas, to Vera Cruz, was delayed today by wireless messages from Washington, was learned from the Navy Department today. The dispatches were scheduled to make the trip from Governor, Texas, to Vera Cruz, thirty hours, which could have been made in less than twenty hours, but would have been delayed by Governor Lind to Vera Cruz, Texas, today.

Administration officials however decided it was better to pay for time and to give President Huerta every opportunity to reconsider his action in not recognizing the United States.

It is now said to be a fact that the President's envoy to Mexico City, Mr. Lind, will make it impossible for the President's envoy to Mexico City, Mr. Lind, to leave before tomorrow and an official bus will be transferred until Monday.

"Mrs. Connors was the wife of Cornelius Connors. They lived in South End. I had seen her in some time until last night, when she came to my house and asked if she could stay with me over night. She said her husband had sold the furnishings in the house and she had no place to go."

"Before I went out today she had been in the house for a few days. When I came back she was not in the room. I remembered she had been peculiar."

"I looked out and saw her on the edge of the roof. I shouted to her and she did the drop. I reached out in a window and tried to grab hold of her dress, but I missed."

REP. TIMOTHY J. MEADE OF BROCKTON.

If there were more Democrats like him in the Legislature the party would have nothing to apologize to the people for this Fall.

CASSIDY GIVES RULES TO SAVE BOSTON BABIES

Mr. Cassidy hands today the good work for saving babies' lives being done by the Committee of Five. This committee of doctors and laymen was formed to promote co-operation in helping babies to Boston.

By HARRY P. CASSIDY.

I want today to call the attention of you mothers and fathers to the work being done by the committee of five in helping Boston babies.

First of all, let me urge you to exercise extreme care in the selection of your milkman. Get the best you can. The best is more too good. Your baby's life may depend on your selection.

Look particularly to the milkman's personal appearance. Is he clean? Inspect his wagon, his bottles and the utensils he carries. If dirty, don't patronize him.

Above all, never buy milk served from a can. Buy only bottled milk. Baby's milk should be kept separate from the family supply. Milk into which a fly has fallen should be thrown away.

Never put left-over milk back into a bottle of unused milk. The leftover may have gathered thousands of harmful bacteria.

Provide a receptacle in which the milkman can place your daily supply. Never allow a bottle of milk to stand exposed to heat, dust and flies on your doorstep or window sill.

An excellent rule makes an ideal milk bottle receptacle. If you can afford it, leave a few pieces of ice in the crock. If you can't afford ice to keep the milk, wrap it clean, wet cloth about the bottle. Then stand the wrapped bottle in a shallow dish of water near an open window, but not in the sun.

Wash the empty bottle thoroughly before returning to the milkman. Ordinary housework people ought to be sufficient to make you do that.

Do not neglect to pasteurize the baby's milk. You can get modified milk at ten stations in the city provided by the Committee of Five. There's a nurse at each one to help you correctly in any way that will help the baby.

Dr. William J. Gallivan of the Division of Child Hygiene of the Board of Health at No. 100 Summer street will be glad to give advice or general campaign to prevent sickness and death among the babies in Boston.

Boston Women Who Have Made Good No. 17 MISS LULU A. DONOVAN

Miss Lulu A. Donovan, playground supervisor for the city of Boston, teacher of folk dancing in the West End High School and well known as one of the producers of the Monday Evening League, is doing more for city children than any other educational development.

"I have watched the children of Boston at play for many years," she says, "and it is hard for me to believe that in a general education could take place in so short a time."

"Patience, teaching and the people have been really successful in the past and will be in the future," she says, "and it is hard for me to believe that in a general education could take place in so short a time."

SOX ANXIOUS TO WIN SECOND FROM TIGERS

Having led the jump on the Tigers, the Sox are anxious to make it two straight wins by taking the afternoon game. If the Sox gain an victory today they will have more than an even chance of winning the series, which, however, may be decided on Monday, as Hugh Bennett will probably pitch the final game.

For today's game Manager Carrigan will place his selected pitcher, Ray Collins, on the mound. The chances for the Sox are good, as Carrigan has done well in his last two games, having won both of them.

Collins has worked the armers out of his arm and it should not give him much better if he starts today. He is very effective against the Tigers. For this reason Carrigan would like to win the game.

Extra-Live Baseball Is Again in Evidence

Lately slugging, reminiscent of the early part of the season of 1911, featured some of the major league games yesterday. Among the hits made were seven home runs, including the Philadelphia Nationals, leading with two to a 10-3 defeat of Chicago.

Becker added his tenth hit in the Sox defeat with one homer, and the others were made by (Hobbes) (Chicago); (Bodie), of the Chicago Americans; (Wingo), of the St. Louis Cardinals; and (Wingo), of Pittsburgh.

Two years ago the unusual amount of slugging was popularly accounted for by the theory that the balls were made with extra live cores.

Sidelights on Sports

PRESIDENT MAHER should reconsider his decision not to take the last Western trip with the Red Sox. This is the season of the year when the talk of trade between the clubs of the same league ceases to be merely rumor and the deals begin to take on more or less tangible form.

Of anything is to be done, if any men are to be secured from the other clubs of the American league on the trip, MaNew should be along to advise Manager Carrigan. The western of the Red Sox in 1914 is simply the oldest method to the hands of both men and they can work to a much greater advantage if they are both in the same city than if they are separated by some hundreds of miles.

More can always be done by a few minutes of personal conference than by any number of telegrams. When you are talking in a man, face to face, you can always come to an agreement more quickly than you ever can by writing him letters or writing him telegrams. President MaNew should take the trip.

But there is another reason why MaNew should go. When Manager MaNew broke with the club, a few weeks back, there was considerable misunderstanding of the whole situation right and left. A good many articles appeared in the papers of some of the clubs which cast a good deal of doubt upon the sincerity of the players behind the scenes.

To rectify the wrong impressions made by these articles, the Red Sox president might find it to the advantage of his club to take a western tour around the circuit. It might not be a great deal of good.

WHICHERLY plan to pursue her the Red Sox for a few weeks. MaNew has the best wishes of the Boston "fans" with him, for the public is interested in the club sentiment, and just as he, as any of the other clubs.

But Red Sox, however, as they are considered today, is not a team to be despised by any means. The very fact that they are so well known to you that would be Hughes Jaquez, the manager of the Sox, for a time, and the Sox would be a team to be despised by any means.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 9.—The Pilgrims are determined to take the final game of the series from the Pirates, this afternoon, and to stand up their Western trip with a victory.

Manager Stallings said this morning that he had not decided upon his center, but would make his selection from among Tyler, James and Dickson. It is likely to be the first named, although the manager refuses to guess.

Clarke will at all probability send George McQuillan to the firing line. In an effort to make a clean sweep of the engagement, although he may decide to give Wilbur Cooper a card to the box.

In his absence, Myers batted second while Devlin played third and batted sixth. Many were in middle field and mostly in left.

Catcher Brown continued his destructive work with the stick. In the two games here, he hit better than a 700 clip. For that reason some surprise was expressed among the spectators as to why when Clymer was sent to bat for him in the sixth inning.

Maranville a Favorite. Maranville is a popular favorite here. He has played a remarkable hitting game in both contests. Yesterday he accepted at chances without a slip, and several of them were on balls which he hit to home perfectly. He had not an instant to lose in making some of his hits, yet they were all runs.

The Pilgrims leave tonight for home, but they will make the journey by way of St. Louis, where they are scheduled to arrive again next Tuesday, when they tackle the Chicago Cubs in two games.

Their Western invasion has not been as successful as they were first trip, but Manager Stallings says he has no complaint to make, inasmuch as his men have all done their best.

Germans Come for an American Coach

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—An athletic selection has left for America with the determination to secure, if possible, the services of A. C. Kraenzlein, the famous German American hurdler, as athletic adviser and trainer for the German track team under preparation for the Olympic games to be held in 1916.

If Kraenzlein should be not available, the members of the German mission, it is said to expect another American trainer. It is possible, from one of the athletic clubs of New York.

The mission is composed of Carl Diem, general secretary of the Berlin Olympic games and president of the German Amateur Athletic Union, Lieutenant Von Reuter, all of the German athletes, and Joseph Walzer, a Munich writer. All of the German athletes, who to study intelligently for athletic methods and the leading universities and athletic clubs.

They called on the German mission and intended to visit New York, Pittsburgh, Washington and St. Louis, Atlantic City, and the Universities of Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton. They will return to Germany about October 1.

What Would You Write About This Picture?

It applies to the OLD and MIDDLE-AGED as well as the young.
As we go through life we are apt to drop something vital to our careers and future.
It may be CHARACTER, AMBITION, COURAGE or SELF-RESPECT.
Most important of all, however, is the fact that IT IS NEVER TOO LATE TO PICK UP WHAT YOU HAVE DROPPED, and start anew.

Show this to your boy, and ask him to write something about it, seeing whether he appreciates the moral lesson told by the picture. And then tomorrow let him read in the Sunday AMERICAN the regular editorial AND SEE IF HE CAN'T WRITE SOMETHING BETTER THAN WHAT THE EDITORS OF THE SUNDAY PAPERS WRITE.

Household Hints

Very frequently when separating the whites from the yolks of eggs the yolks become broken, and fall into the whites. This is a loss of time and labor. To avoid this, dip a cloth in warm water, wring it dry, and touch the yolk with a corner of it. The yolk will adhere to the cloth, and may be easily removed.

To remove the deposit from the inside of a kettle, fill the kettle with water and add to it a teaspoon of saleratus. Let it heat for an hour, when the deposit will be dissolved and can be easily removed. Wipe the kettle with a clean cloth.

When a tin lid is very hard to remove, instead of struggling to loosen it with a knife, just hold the tin up endwise and give a few taps with a hammer, and it will come off immediately.

TOBACCO HABIT

A very interesting book has been published on the tobacco habit—how to conquer it quickly and easily. It tells the dangers of excessive smoking, coughing, snuffing, etc., and explains how nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, weak eyes, stomach troubles and numerous other disorders may be eliminated through stopping self-poisoning by tobacco. The author who has written this book wants to genuinely help all who have become addicted to tobacco habit, and says there's no need to suffer that awful craving or restlessness which comes when one tries to quit voluntarily. This is no mind cure or temperance sermon tract, but plain common sense, clearly set forth. The author will send it free, postpaid, in plain wrapper. Write, giving name and full address—a post card will do. Address: Edward J. Woods, 531 Sixth Ave., 250 E. New York City, and if you know any other persons who would like to read the book, you can send their names (with initials and full addresses) also. Keep this advertisement, it may prove to be the best piece of news you ever read in this journal.

To Dig a 12-Mile Hole
HAVING the teams to toll along the sandy highway behind him, Wilson caulked forward on his wily little polo pony to look over the ground.

It was the last bit of unclaimed land in the Jersey Plains. Less than a hundred years before all of the country they had passed through after leaving Toms River, which was the temporary chief shipping point, had been sand waste and scrub pine. Now it was the most fertile garden land in the world. On the site of the tunnel entrance the government foresters had been busy and sturdy young trees all about him marked the end of the first step in their work of reforestation.

He dismounted and scrambled up one of those that grew on a bit of rising ground, a sand dune of twenty years before. Far to the southwest he could see the tall chimneys and the smoke of Toms River and mark the shipping in the canal, where one had been the densest forest of the Jersey Plains. And beyond that a faint strip of the blue Atlantic.

For a long time he sat dangling his legs from a limb and gazed out across the country until presently vivid columns of smoke stood in around him and scores of new born unnumbering ripples and markings shone. When after wagon came on and discharged its load of men and equipment—men for the most part—and soon the woods for miles around rang with the howl of the steel, and from his eyes it seemed to him that some invisible giant was striking through the woodland, sweeping a bluish wreath.

It was 8 o'clock before the camp was fixed, and as fast as the surveyors indicated the places temporary sheds sprang up as if they had leaped from the ground. The smoke of a hundred fires went up into the clear summer air. And Hives was in the thick of it, directing gangs of axmen, hurrying the surveyors and the men who were running the temporary telephone line that should have been completed by daylight.

By 11 o'clock the line was into the little combination office and bedroom which was to be his home for the next few weeks. But most particularly he gave attention to the two steel rails that were thrusting themselves toward him from Toms River, a thousand feet to the south and the carpenters, resting an hour.

"What's the matter?" he demanded, only half-humorously.
"Well—what is the matter?" demanded Allan.
"Where are the workmen?"
"What workmen?"
"None," he answered.

"Why, I've only got about four thousand here now, and they can't handle the freight and put up the buildings fast enough, let alone do any real work. Get some men!"
"All right," laughed Allan. "I'll have some sleep."
